

WLF— The leader in free enterprise legal advocacy.

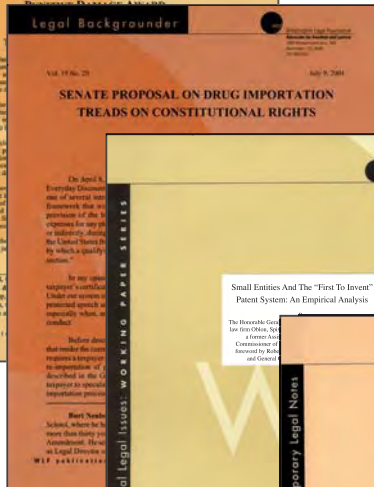

Utilizing our pragmatic perspective as a public interest advocate, WLF advances free enterprise principles with a broad-based communications program that provides timely information and legal opinions from leading policy experts. Our outreach program disseminates WLF's message to major print and electronic media, judges, members of Congress, executive branch officials, business leaders, law students and professors.

Counsel's Advisory— announces urgent developments that impact free enterprise.

Legal Opinion Letter— offers succinct legal analyses of recent court rulings and regulatory issues.

Legal Backgrounder— presents concise discussions on selected law topics.

Working Paper— provides in-depth examination of critical legal issues.

Contemporary Legal Notes— outlines central principles and issues in an area of law.

Conversations With— presents a forum for leading experts to discuss current legal policy issues.

Monograph— provides comprehensive analysis of significant legal issues.

From the courtroom to the public policy arena.

WLF has litigated more than 990 cases, participated in 710 administrative and regulatory proceedings, initiated 138 judicial misconduct investigations, filed 165 attorney and judicial reform actions and petitions, and published more than 1,720 legal studies.

WLF delivers the message.

In high profile legal matters, impact litigation and crisis management situations, the WLF legal PR team weighs in with authority. Our seasoned in-house attorneys, along with pro bono support from leading law firms make us a powerful legal advocate for free enterprise. WLF influences public opinion by hosting compelling briefings for the electronic and print media, authoring national op-ed articles, publishing highly regarded legal studies in seven different publication formats and by filing briefs in important, precedent-setting cases.

www.wlf.org

Washington Legal Foundation effective advocate of free enterprise *

2009 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20036
202.588.0302