

WEB SEMINAR SERIES

Washington Legal Foundation

The SEC and Securities Class Action Suits: Defining the Relationship Between the Commission and the Plaintiffs' Bar

PROFESSOR MOIN A. YAHYA

University of Alberta
Author, The Law & Economics of 'Sue & Dump'

LYLE ROBERTS

Partner, Dewey & LeBoeuf LLP
Author of The 10b-5 Daily
(www.the10b-5daily.com).

LIVE WEBCAST:

Tuesday, July 29, 2008

10:00 a.m. – 11:00 a.m. EST

<http://www.wlf.org>

Event Highlights:

- SEC's historical perspective on private securities fraud suits and actions taken pursuant to it.
- Commentary on current state of securities class actions and courts' efforts to police abuses.
- Potential SEC role in addressing "industry practices" and other abuses Milberg Weiss scandal brought to light.
- Possible plaintiffs' lawyers' role in manipulating stock prices and securities law theories applying to such activity.

Interact with our speakers during the program by submitting your questions to interactive@wlf.org

Washington Legal Foundation

Advocate for freedom and justice®
2009 Massachusetts Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20036
202.588.0302

WLF's Web Seminar Series presents viewers with live webcast analysis and commentary by noted legal experts on timely developments in law and public policy. The video and audio of these hour-long presentations will also be conveniently archived and available on WLF's website, www.wlf.org.