ENVIRONMENTAL JUSTICE: A PIVOTAL YEAR'S DEVELOPMENTS AND WHAT TO WATCH FOR IN 2022

Live Webcast

Wednesday, Feb. 2, 2022

3:00 p.m. — 4:00 p.m. EST

For the past year, federal officials have worked to implement a “whole government” approach to meeting environmental-justice goals, while numerous states have stepped up their own efforts. Much remains uncertain, however, on how pursuit of environmental justice will impact business and regulatory decisions on plant siting, permitting, construction, and other activities. Our speakers will look back at developments in 2021 and offer their strategic thoughts on the current legal and policy landscape and what’s around the corner.
